

Read the 4 verses of the poem.

Practise reading it with expression like you are reading it out in class.

Make your own illustrations to go with each verse.

1. What does 'and lots of chocolate bars' mean? Is this true or is it a joke? Explain this.

2. Use a highlighter pen to find these word classes:

adjectives

verbs

nouns

pronouns

You will get the next part of the poem tomorrow!

Romulus and Remus

- A Roman Myth

Romulus and Remus were twins
Their father was a god called "Mars"
Who had a planet named for him
And lots of chocolate bars.

They had a wicked uncle who
Threw them in the river to die.
But they were rescued by a wolf
Who happened to pass by.

The wolf pulled them from the river
And took them back home to her den.
She dried them off and fed them milk,
Until they were healthy again.

Before long a shepherd found them
And took them back home to his wife.
The couple raised them as their own,
A happy start to life.