Cross the River Game

You need to cross the crocodile infested water. Write the letters from each word onto the stepping stones. Jump on the stones and say each sound then try to blend the word. If you are not sure what the word says after jumping on the stepping stones, go back to the beginning and jump across again a little quicker.

English -

Listen to Giraffes Can't Dance story here - <https://flipgrid.com/b1c61cb6>

I know we keep asking you to listen the story, but it is important that we get to know the story really well as it will help us with our learning over the term. If we were in school, we would be reading the story each day.

For the next few days our focus for English lessons will be:

- To learn what we mean by the words 'different' and 'difference'
- To identify what is unique about ourselves as individuals
- To understand that everyone is different and that we are all special in unique ways

Today:

Discuss with someone in your household how you are different to each other, here are some sentence starters to help get your conversation going.

I am different because of the way I look (e.g. I have brown eyes etc.)...

I am different because my favourite things are...

I am different because my least favourite things are...

I am different because my talents are...

Ask your grown up to make some notes about how you and the person you discuss with are different. Here is an example:

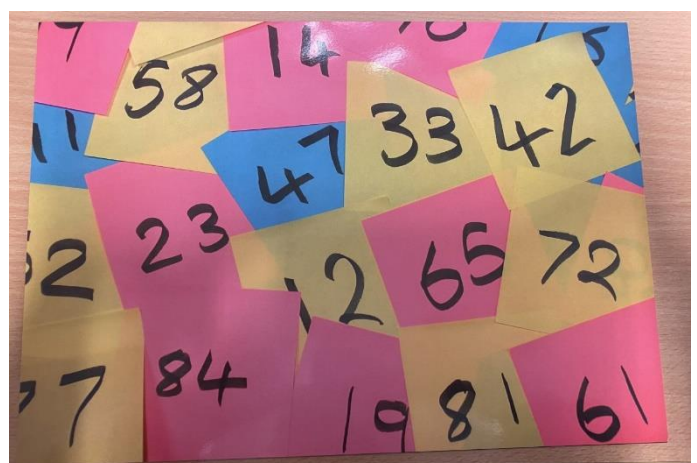

Miss Wiltshire	Mrs Porter
I am different because I have curly brown hair and glasses.	I am different because of the way I look....I am tall and I have frizzy hair.
I am different because my favourite things are crazy clothes and shoes, painting and drawing.	I am different because my favourite things are...reading, going for nature walks and visiting new places.
I am different because my least favourite things are brussel sprouts and thunder storms.	I am different because my least favourite things are...moths, butterflies and birds fluttering near to me.
I am different because my talents are painting, drawing on my iPad, baking and crafts.	I am different because my talents are...being organised at work and reading stories at story time with different character voices.

Maths -

We are going to continue with securing our number knowledge today.

Today we would like you to go on a number hunt - this could be around your house or when you go on your daily exercise. Write down all the numbers that you see.

When you have collected all your numbers, first, write your collected numbers onto post it notes or pieces of paper. Then, order your numbers from smallest to largest.

Example - 2, 5, 7, 12, 20

Geography -

Our Geography this term will focus on Seasonal & daily weather. Today I would like us to think about the question - 'What is weather?' Have a think about what you think weather is tell your grown up or write down what you think. Once you have done that, draw a picture to match the weather types below:

Rain

Sun

Snow

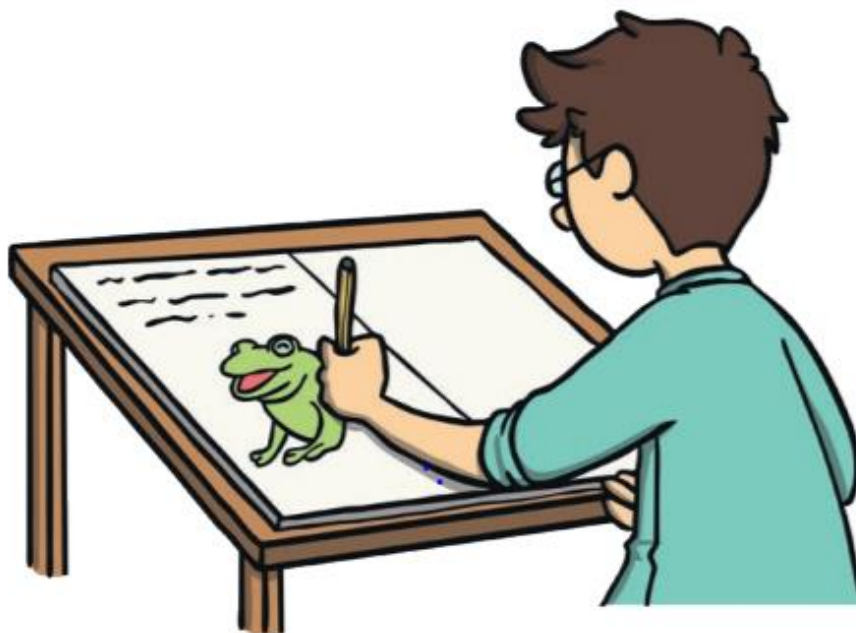

Thunder and lightening

Cloudy

Reading -

Choose a book to read.

Now draw a picture of your favourite character.

Choosing time - Learning through play, you can use this time to practice your writing, letter formation, number formation, problem solving, imagination and speaking and listening skills. Plus many more!

Story Time - Uploaded on Tapestry at 3pm.

Have a great day. Remember - be good, be kind, stay safe and do amazing things

How to Make Lemonade

Ingredients

6 lemons

200g Fairtrade Sugar

1.5l of water

Method

1. Juice the lemons to make as much juice as you can. To make job easier, roll the lemons firmly on a work surface, pushing down with the heel of your hand before cutting in half and juicing.
2. Mix all the ingredients in a big jug and adjust the amounts until you have a flavour you are happy with. Continue stirring until all the sugar is dissolved.
3. Chill and serve with ice. Enjoy the taste of Fairtrade!
